HITLER WILLING TO TALK

New Note Seen as Offer To Negotiate With Poles

BULLETIN

PARIS, Aug. 30 (AP)—Premier Daladier's office announced tonight that effective immediately the entire French railway system, with all its supplies, employes and rolling stock, was requisitioned for military use.

The order means that henceforth commercial traffic may be suspended in whole or part if the military authorities consider it necessary.

LONDON, Aug. 30 (INS)—Great Britain will probably send a new message to Adolf Hitler before the day has passed, it was stated on reliable authority this afternoon.

LONDON, Aug. 30 (AP)—The British government was said in official circles today to be planning a further communication to Fuehrer Hitler while it also was reported in usually reliable diplomatic quarters that Germany's latest note contained an indication at least of a willingness now to negotiate directly with Poland.

In these quarters there was a suggestion that Germany might want a Polish minister plenipotentiary to be sent to Berlin, but whether this was definitely suggested in Hitler's note was not disclosed.

The British government has insisted throughout that Germany and Poland negotiate directly on their differences —a condition which thus far has lacked support from Germany.

British officials maintained secrecy concerning the contents of Hitler's lengthy note, which was before the cabinet at an hour and a half session today.

LENGTHEN "NERVES WAR"

Although any willingness by Germany to open negotiations directly with Poland concerning Hitler's claims for Danzig, the Polish corridor and other concessions would be welcomed in London, reliable quarters emphasized that demands such as these could scarcely prove acceptable as a basis for discussion.

The disclosure, however, that a further British communication to Germany was planned indicated that the London government was anxious to keep conversations going as long as possible, both in the hope of finding a basis of settlement and also, as one diplomatic informant put it, to prolong the so-called "war of nerves" for its possible effect inside Germany.

Arrival of Hitler's reply to the British statement of position late last night caused a flurry of activity that continued until early this morning.

The British Government was reported in diplomatic quarters to be making inquiries in Berlin concerning what was said to have been a mention in Hitler's note of a period of time—some reports placed it at 24 hours—for the British reply.

In the conversation between Hitler and the British Ambassador, Sir Nevile Henderson, Hitler was reported here to have said this was not in the nature of an ultimatum, however.

The British were said to be asking whether it should be thus interpreted as only emphasizing that the question was one of urgency.

Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax studied the mes-

HITLER LEANS TO MEDIATION

By PIERRE J. HUSS

International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 30—Adolf Hitler's virtual acceptance in principle of the offers of mediation made by King Leopold of Belgium and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands marked an important halt of events in the road from war to peace today.

Significant also was evidence that Hitler is willing to accept conditionally and also in principle Great Britain's suggestion for a broad European settlement extending beyond the isolated Danzig-corridor issues.

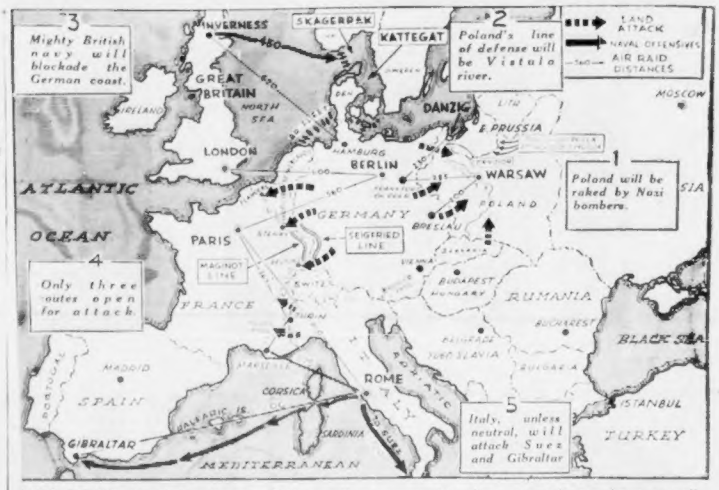
Everything pointed, however, to what a continued period of grave tension and the urgent necessity for prompt liquidation of the crisis.

Members of the German cabinet assembled unexpectedly in Hitler's chancellery this afternoon. All were in Berlin, available for the meeting.

Members of the Reichstag many of whom left the capital after their meeting with Hitler last Sunday, have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to return for a meeting at any moment.

It is now generally assumed in Berlin that if there is a definite and quick solution of the problems of Danzig and the Polish corridor Hitler would be ready to send Foreign Minister Ribbentrop to Brussels or The Hague to participate in a European settlement conference.

He may insist, however, upon con-



WAR SET-UP—Here's how Europe will line up if war comes. Note how vast armies are drawn up waiting the signal to hurl death and destruction.

At a Glance

The door to peace in Europe edged open a little wider today, although there was no slackup in the grim preparations against the arrival of a "zero hour."

Well-informed diplomatic circles in London reported that Hitler was beginning to show signs of a more conciliatory attitude even to the extent of a willingness to deal directly with Poland on the Danzig and Corridor issues, which up to this time he has steadfastly refused to consider. (See stories on this page.)

Hitler was also reported as disposed toward acceptance of King Leopold of Belgium and Queen Wilhelmina of Holland as mediators, which also marked another definite turn toward a possible road to peace. (On this page.)

Meanwhile, preparations for war continued in all the affected states. In France, where offical circles continued to express pessimism, 50,000 children were evacuated from Paris, the capital. (Page 5.) Poland called up more reservists while protesting vigorously against Slovakia's action in permitting German troops to mass near the Polish-Slovak border. (Page 5.)

Rome also evacuated her citizens from the danger areas while editorial comment in the Italian press called for complete scrapping of the Versailles treaty and a complete "New Deal" for Europe. (Page 5.)

In the Far East, new concern arose over multiple reports that Japan had begun extensive troop movements toward the Manchukuo border and it was feared that at last the long-forecast Russo-Japanese war was imminent. (Page 4.)

DUCE ASKS SCRAPPING OF TREATY

ROME, Aug. 30 (AP)—Scrapping of what is left of the treaty of Versailles as the first step toward banishing Europe's war fear was demanded today by Premier Mussolini's Milan newspaper, Il Popolo D'Italia.

The paper's editorial, widely republished in the Italian press, was reported reliably to have been directed if not actually written by Mussolini.

The paper said 11th-hour appeals for Il Duce to save the peace were coming through "the international press."

It indicated the price of Mussolini's affirmative response would be a far-reaching formula or both "European and non-European" complaints which Mussolini had favored for years.

Observers generally interpreted the adjective "non-European" to mean redistribution in some manner of colonial raw materials.

Likening Europe's crisis to toothaches, the editorial said:

"Now that the pain has reached the stage of spasms the tooth must come out. To remove the cause of the evils which afflict Europe—and not just today—the treaty of Versailles must be eliminated. Out with Versailles. Out with all European and non-European ills."

Scores See Bandits Get $2024 in Newton

In full view of scores of workers, motorists and pedestrians in Washington st., Newton Corners, today, two bandits seized an insurance company cashier, felled him, robbed him of $2024 in cash and checks—and made good their escape.

An envelope the victim had been carrying under his arm contained $1885 in cash and $139 in checks.

James A. Mitchell, 59, of Clyde st., Newtonville, cashier employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in Washington st., was on his way to the Newton Trust Company, only a short distance down the same street, to make his daily deposit for the company.

SEIZE CASH AND FLEE

He had just passed the Paramount Theater, a block west of Newton Corners, and was nearly opposite the Edison Co. offices when the two bandits, neither showing a firearm, came up behind him in the rain.

One seized him round the neck from behind and then punched him, Mitchell dropping to the sidewalk.

Although he clung desperately to the envelope, the second man tore it from his grasp.

Then the bandits, both hatless and wearing dark clothes, ran back past the theater, darted into Bacon st., ran through an alley to Peabody st., and there jumped into an automobile which a third man was driving slowly along Peabody st. from the direction of Washington st.

GETS CAR NUMBER

Although he knew nothing then of the holdup, Edward Dawson, employed at the Frost Motors garage in Peabody st., was attracted by the haste of the men as they ran for the alley and leaped into the car.

Dawson had presence of mind to jot down the number of the car as it picked up speed and raced away. He informed police of the number.

The bold holdup was witnessed by a number of employes in the Edison Company across the street and by many persons in the street, but so quickly did the robbery and flight occur that the bandits were away before the witnesses could recover from their surprise.

Not a word was spoken by the bandits, Mitchell told police.

FILM RE-ENACTS CAMPUS SLAYING BARED BY YOUTH

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30 (AP)—Police, probing the fatal bludgeoning of a one-time Follies dancer and brutal attacks on two 17-year-old girls, borrowed an idea today from Hollywood's movie studios.

Sound pictures of De Witt Clinton Cook, 20, re-enacting the clubbing of blonde Anya Sosoyeva on a college campus, were prepared for a grand jury to see.

District Attorney Bacon Fitts claims Cook confessed killing Miss Sosoyeva, 32, beating Myrtle Wagner, a maid, and slugging and robbing Delia Bogard, film dancer. The youth was booked on suspicion of murder. Fitts said he would ask the jury to vote a murder indictment.

"Each time robbery was the reason I started out," Fitts quoted

Vets Demand Aid For Destitute 'Pals'

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Delegates from all over the nation settled down today for the real work of the 40th Annual Convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars—now that the big parade is over.

They sought to solve the problems which are those of every veteran—problems of employment, of vocational placement, of legislation which the vets will determine is, or is not needed to help them in times that are increasingly difficult.

And tonight it will climax in a general forum meeting, where every veteran will have a chance to air his views, to listen to the reports of committees. Weighty decisions are to be made, and the character and importance of this, one of the organization's most glamourous and

'WRONG NUMBER' PLOT CLUE?

Revere police offered the opinion today that attempts to extort $500 from Mrs. George Hodgson, 30, wife of the commander of the Revere American Legion Post, with threats against her husband's life, were really intended for some one connected with the number pool racket.

Mrs. Hodgson concurred with the police as she recalled that the mysterious telephone caller insisted that he wanted the money because of some number pool debt.

"I tried to explain that Mr. Hodgson knew nothing about such things," she said, "but several calls came in. We are sure it was a case of getting the wrong person on the line, and we have heard nothing since, nor do we expect to."

A trap set for the extortioner failed to work, it was disclosed, when he failed to appear at a designated spot, near the General Edwards bridge, where an envelope had been left by Mrs. Hodgson.

Demands for the money were made in several telephone calls received by Mrs. Hodgson at her Harris st., Revere, home last Saturday, police said.

The caller told her he was a number pool operator and warned her to get $500 and follow out his directions, "or else."

Mrs. Hodgson informed police and the trap was set Saturday evening when the extortioner had stipulated the money be left for him. The phone calls were traced to a Lynn drugstore.

U.S. ENDS BREMEN GUN HUNT, BIG LINER WILL SAIL TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 30—Collector of Customs Harry M. Durning announced this afternoon the liners Bremen, Normandie and Aquitania would be permitted to sail for Europe by seven p. m.

This announcement came after the French line had revised an earlier statement that the Normandie would be held here indefinitely.

First announcement said the liner was to be held on orders from Henri Cangardel, managing director in Paris. The later statement said the message had been garbled.

Meanwhile the liner, like the North German Lloyd's Bremen, and two British ships, the Transylvania and the Aquitania, was searched by customs guards to see that she carried no war contraband.

BREMEN SKIPPER WRATHY

The Normandie was scheduled to sail at 10 a. m. and many of its 330 passengers began arriving early. None was allowed on board. Most of them reported after saying where they could be reached.

The Cunard White Star line, however, permitted its passengers to board the Aquitania, which had been scheduled to sail at noon. Among them was Sir Ronald Lindsay, retiring British ambassador to the United States. It was expected the ship would carry about 61 cabin, 100 tourist and 100 third-class passengers.

Still chafing under the delay imposed on him, Captain Adolf Ahrens, master of the Bremen, complained today the customs guards were "searching an empty swimming pool." The delay has already cost the line about $4000, he said.

Captain William Drechsel, marine superintendent of the line, said they wished to get back to Germany just for the safety of the ship.

"It cost 50,000,000 marks, or $20,000,000," he said.

"The ship can't be used for anything else. It could be seen 20 miles away."

WATCH FOR KUHN

The New York police department, meanwhile, took extraordinary precautions to see that Fritz Kuhn, German-American Bund leader, did not slip aboard the Bremen. It was indicated the vessel would be escorted at least to the three-mile limit.

The request for these precautions was made by the Dies committee investigating un-American activities. Detectives were stationed on the pier and a police launch kept an eye on the ship from the river side.

Acting Capt. James Donnelly said the detectives of the alien squad would board the liner and proceed as far as Quarantine in the lower bay, where a Coast Guard cutter and possibly a Coast Guard plane would escort the ship to the three-mile limit.

JAPAN POURS TROOPS OVER MANCHUKUO LINE

TOKYO, Aug. 30 (AP)—As a result of Soviet Russia's non-aggression pact with Germany freeing the hands of Japan's rival in eastern Asia, the Japanese army is rushing large forces into Manchukuo through Korea and North China.

All vulnerable points along Manchukuo's frontiers with Soviet Siberia and Outer Mongolia, Soviet counterstrate, are being reinforced.

Manchukuo is filled with rumors that Russia, now freed of the German menace on her western front, absolutely is massing fresh armies in Siberia.

In Moscow, however, the official agency, Tass, issued a denial of reports that 200,000 to 300,000 Red army troops had been sent to the Far East, asserting that on the contrary Russia was reinforcing her western frontier garrisons.)

New Jap Cabinet Is Installed

TOKYO, Aug. 30 (AP)—Gen. Nobuyuki Abe, called from retirement to guide Japan's altered foreign policy, was installed as premier today by Emperor Hirohito. The installation of his cabinet followed an hour later.

Behind the News In Europe Today

By J. C. OESTREICHER
International News Service Foreign Editor

The most cherished hope of Utopian idealists—a real international conference to settle all of Europe's woes—crept cautiously into dispatches from abroad today.

There was no one quite bold enough to say that any such dream had more than a thousand to one chance of becoming reality.

But the mere fact that the hope was voiced at all on a continent armed to the teeth and awaiting only a command to invite catastrophe, served to lessen ever so slightly the almost unbearable tension of the week that has rolled into history on a gun-carriage.

Most significant was the fact that the possibility was predicted not in London, Paris, Rome or Warsaw, but in Berlin—citadel of a dictator who long ago renounced international conferences as a means of solving international problems.

Perhaps this meant that neither London, Paris, Rome nor Warsaw placed much faith in any such meeting or in the pledges that might be given if it were called.

Yet Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, in his address to the House of Commons yesterday did signify Britain's readiness, even eagerness, to participate in a full and frank discussion if the menace of force is first removed.

Strangely enough, Berlin today seemed to be the most optimistic capital in Europe. Paris was drenched in gloom. London felt that things were "no easier but no worse." Warsaw prepared without a halt for an eventual armed showdown.

But Berlin, usually the most rampant and the most impatient of all, was almost calm. To be sure, the urgency of an early settlement of Danzig and the Polish corridor was vigorously re-emphasized.

Nevertheless, the mediation proposals of Holland and Belgium met with a courteous welcome and any plans envisaged by Britain for a wide and permanent settlement met with immediate acceptance "in principle."

Compare with this attitude the one expressed in Berlin when President Roosevelt has offered his services as mediator. Revilement and scorn constituted the Nazi reaction then.

Many forces doubtless are working to stay Adolf Hitler's hand from measures precipitating a tragedy from which there is no respite. Premier Mussolini is one of them and Josef Stalin is another.

Tangled indeed must be the affairs of Europe when the representatives of two opposite poles of civilization and political ideology bring pressure to bear upon a third.

The Soviet attitude is a mysterious one and the subject of course for keenest speculation.

Regardless of what reasons are given, the indisputable fact remains that the parliament of the U. S. S. R. has delayed ratification of the pact that Stalin concluded with Hitler a week or so ago in one of the strangest turnabouts in history.

Now the Russians have strengthened their western border. Why? To aid Germany against Poland, or to save their own skin in some presently unlooked for clash between Bolshevism and a potential Anglo-German bloc?

There is no one in the world today who knows the answer to this question save Josef Stalin himself and, as usual, Stalin isn't talking.

GERMAN TANK STOPPERS—Polish soldiers in trenches fire on an "enemy" tank during maneuvers of Poland's armed forces near Warsaw. Today, developments indicated war may have been averted by Chancellor Hitler's seeming willingness to negotiate with Poland.

Poland Calls 500,000 More Men, Fears Slovak Menace

WARSAW, Aug. 30 (AP)—Poland issued orders today calling an undisclosed number of new reservists to the colors.

The increase in the number of men under arms was ordered as government officials took an increasingly serious view of the general European situation and especially of the concentration of German troops in Slovakia on Poland's southern border.

ARMING 500,000 MORE

It was emphasized that today's action did not constitute general mobilization through which it is estimated Poland could put 4,000,000 men in the field.

Well-informed cvircles said the number of new men called would be "smaller than the total already mobilized."

Observers expressed belief today's call would bring up an additional 500,000 men.

"REMOVE DANGER"

Polish officials announced last night Poland had replied favorably to the offer of Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands and King Leopold of the Belgians to use their good offices toward mediation of the crisis which has brought Europe dangerously close to war.

Prime Minister Chamberlain's address to the British House of Commons yesterday was described by a foreign office spokesman as "proof that Britain, like Poland and France, is ready to settle all disputes peacefully, but that all these states are firmly decided to remove the danger of future acquisitions."

It was announced officially the Polish government had protested to the Slovak government against alleged appeals of Slovak authorities to the Slovak public to greet the German army as one coming to defend Slovakia against the "Polish menace."

The statement said the Slovak radio had broadcast an appeal to receive the German troops "as good friends and to collaborate with them."

50,000 PARISIAN CHILDREN START ON 'WAR HOLIDAY'

PARIS, Aug. 30 (AP)—School children, with the calm of their soldier fathers, bade a dry-eyed adieu to home and mother today and they left for country retreats in the face of war danger.

Double-decker suburban trains and special services piled high with baggage began the evacuation of nearly 50,000 pupils from Paris. The trains will leave at brief intervals throughout today and tomorrow.

Order prevailed at the stations. The only emotion apparent was anxiety and that was visible principally in the faces of hard-pressed school teachers.

The children themselves, from toddlers to older ones who know what's it's all about, seemed as unconcerned as if they simply were leaving on another holiday.

Two boys who could not have been more than eight years old amused themselves in a train by playing cards.

A tousle-headed little girl scampered about the Montparnasse station with a doll in her arms and a gas mask dangling from her shoulders. Few brought masks, however.

"They won't be necessary in the country," a good-natured teacher explained.

One woman stepped out of a taxi with a baby and a "pram." She was carrying the child, however, for the "pram" was loaded with family belongings.

A reservist in uniform handed his family on the train before departing for his regiment.

Children wearing red identification tags stood in little groups about cardboard signs indicating the departure time and destination of their trains.

Thousands of Italians Get Out of Danger Zones

ROME, Aug. 30 (AP)—Thousands of Italians abandoned the cities for the countryside today on government advice.

The total number to leave, however, was only a small part of metropolitan populations and the exodus was orderly.

Those living in the islands of Sicily and Sardinia also were warned.

The country as a whole remained so calm that newspapers urged Italians not to let the tranquility of the country lead them into imprudence, and stressed the seriousness of the general European situation.

Paris Sends Weygand to Near East

PARIS, Aug. 30 (AP) — Gen. Maxime Weygand, former chief of the French army, who has flown dramatically to the Near East, was reported in military quarters today to have been chosen as commander of the allied forces in the Eastern Mediterranean in case of war.

The 72-year-old but still active Weygand landed today in Beirut, Syria, by plane from Paris where he had held a series of conferences with military and civil leaders.

Gen. Weygand retired as chief of the army general staff in 1935 and was succeeded by Gen. Maurice Gustava Gamelin, now slated to be commander-in-chief of French, British and allied armies in the event of war.

Premier Daladier, who declared "we will know where we stand today," summoned members of three important parliament committees, the army, air and finance groups, for a mid-afternoon emergency session.

By that time the nation expected to know whether Adolf Hitler had made a bid for peace or war in his dispute with Poland. French leaders awaited news of the German leaders long note dispatched to London late last night.

Some French leaders continued to view the future pessimistically, but the tone of the Berlin morning press revived hopes Germans would agree to negotiate.

Daladier was reported ready to order general mobilization, depending on terms of Hitler's note to London.

The swift pace in diplomatic exchanges continued when Daladier received Polish Ambassador Julius Lukasiewicz this morning.

Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet conferred with Paul Emile Naggiar, French ambassador to Moscow, who flew here to report on Russian's non-aggression pact.

DENY F. D. ARMS CHARGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—A new Congressional dispute over foreign policy arose today in the wake of President Roosevelt's assertion that Senate postponement of neutrality revision was a factor in the European crisis.

Mr. Roosevelt said that he thought everybody believed the failure to act on his request for repeal of the arms embargo had contributed in a major or minor degree to the present tense situation.

The subject came up at a press conference when the President was asked to comment on a recent speech in which Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, declared postponement of debate until next winter had favored Germany.

Referring to Johnson's speech, Senator Wheeler (D.) of Montana, said last night at Helena, Mont.:

"Every war jingoist in this country is in favor of our going to the aid of England and France in event of war. They would not only send arms and ammunition at the present time, but it wouldn't be long before they would want to send men.

"Apparently that is Johnson's idea in the matter. By minding our own business we are not contributing to either side."

Senator Bridges (R.) of New Hampshire told reporters he had not noticed any sign that Senators who opposed repeal of the arms embargo would change their position at the 1940 session. Senator Thomas (D.) of Utah, had argued that in event of a European war, Congress would "throw the existing neutrality act out of the window."

Bridges said he believed the present neutrality law should not be repealed under present international conditions, and added:

"I particularly would not want to repeal the law as long as Mr. Roosevelt is President. I haven't any confidence in the way the President has been handling the present international situation. His policy has been one of constant meddling."

Film Re-Enacts Campus Murder

Cook, unemployed printer and former inmate of the Eldora, Ia., reform school, who doesn't smoke or drink.

ADMITS 300 BREAKS

The district attorney also asserted Cook had admitted committing "about 300" burglaries since he came here two years ago from Waterloo, Ia., "sometimes three or four a night."

Police Capt. Dalton B. Patton said Cook readily agreed to re-enact the assault February 24 on Miss Semyeva on the grounds of City College, where she was a dramatic student.

Mary Rose posed as the dancer. Cook wielded a paper club while cameras ground and his words went into a microphone.

"I got the club under a bench," Patton quoted the suspect as saying. "I figured I'd slug a girl, grab her purse and run. I saw the Semyeva girl hurrying across the campus. I hit her over the head and dragged her behind the trees. She kept screaming and I couldn't stop her. I dropped her and ran."

DIDN'T KNOW VICTIMS

Patton said Cook also re-enacted the attack on Miss Bogard March 20 as she walked along a Hollywood street and the assault last week on Miss Wagner struck down as she sat knitting in the kitchen of her employer's home.

"I didn't know any of the girls," Patton said Cook told him. "They just happened to be my victims."

Cook's wife, Lorraine, 24, and his mother, Mrs. Ruby Cook, were booked by police for investigation.

NAZI SUB FLOTILLA—In the event of war between Germany and Poland, these Nazi subs would play an important part in the control of the Baltic. The moment war is declared, Britain, it is believed, would impose a blockade of the Baltic, and these sea fighters would be the hope of the Germans to smash it.

14 Red Planes Downed by Japs

TOKYO, Aug. 30 (AP)—Domei (Japanese news agency) reported today that Japanese army planes had shot down 14 of 30 attacking Mongol planes over the border between Soviet Outer Mongolia and Manchukuo in the vicinity of Lake Buir.

No Japanese planes were lost in the encounter, Domei said. Its dispatch was not dated.

RAIN, WIND SNARL RUSH HOUR TRAFFIC

Drenching rain, swept down on Boston by a gusty northeast wind, made rush hour traffic hazardous and caused thousands of commuters to arrive at work today with sopping clothing and wet feet.

North and South stations were jammed with throngs caught without umbrellas or raincoats, hopefully but vainly waiting for the downpour to cease.

Downtown subway stations sheltered similarly hard-hearted refugees who finally had to make a dash through rain and puddles to store jobs and offices.

The storm made visibility poor on Greater Boston highways, slowing to crawls quickly and causing many minor accidents.

North and South Shore yachtsmen and small boat owners reported much damage from the wind, which hit a maximum of 35 miles an hour. Scores of small craft were sunk at their moorings, hundreds of others were buffeted by the choppy sea, or sideswiped by boats that broke loose and were blown ashore.

The Squantum Yacht club's big pilot boat Lester dragged her anchor and swept into shallow water, colliding with a score of small vessels as she did so.

The big yawl Sunbeam, anchored off Squantum, was seen making heavy weather of the storm and was feared in danger of being blown ashore.

The Weather Bureau at Washington ordered continuation of northeast storm warnings today from Sandy Hook, N. J., to Provincetown, Mass.

MAY WIN TWO PRIZES—Entrants in the Little Sisters Beauty Contest, to be held by the Boston Boys Club, are these sisters, Margaret, seven (left), and Anne Donovan, eight, who have two chances of bringing the Donovan family a prize. Brother Mike (center) thinks they have a good chance, too. The contest comes off tomorrow at the Charles Hayden Playground, South Boston.

GALE BARS SQUALUS SALVAGE

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 30 (AP)—A whistling northeaster halted all salvage work today on the submarine Squalus.

The disabled undersea boat, which carried 26 to death, was surrounded by such boisterous water that salvage workers could not be transferred to and from the scene and divers could not descend.

Two pontoons, deemed necessary to lift the Squalus bow, were held in port pending more clement weather.

Admiral Cyrus W. Cole, in charge of the salvage operations, was among those who were kept ashore by the unfavorable weather. Naval officers said they believed the submarine would not be lifted and towed to drydock before Saturday. Meanwhile shore leave was suspended and those ashore were held there.

LOWELL, Aug. 30 — Fred H. Bourke, veteran city official, today became the ninth candidate to seek the Democratic nomination for mayor.

HEROISM SAVES 6 MEN ON GALE-TOSSED SHIP

Seamanship and courage saved the lives of six men aboard the three-masted schooner Thomas H. Lawrence today, as the vessel was swept ashore in heavy surf at Ipswich beach, after her rigging had been carried away and her lifeboat smashed in heavy weather off Cape Ann.

Volunteering to take a lifeline ashore in a cockleshell dory that had been stowed on the deck of the grounded schooner, Seamen John Lopez of Providence was hurled into the water when pounding seas overturned the dory.

To his rescue plunged First Mate Ben Rose, also of Providence, who leaped fully clad in oilskins from the deck with a life preserver.

Half swimming, half wading in the boiling surf, both Lopez and Rose reached the beach.

Near exhaustion, they staggered to a nearby cottage to telephone to the coast guard for assistance.

The vessel's plight had already been reported, however, by Keeper Per Tornberg of Annisquam lighthouse.

Meantime, the skipper, Captain Anthony Perry of Boston, remained aboard his ship, with two seamen and a cook.

He signaled that the schooner was not yet taking water, although subjected to a pounding that threatened to spring her seams.

Seaman Lopez told the Boston Evening American a first hand story of the wild night and morning he and his shipmates experienced after their vessel became helpless in the gale.

"We were sailing in light ballast from Portland to New Haven," he said.

"The schooner is Boston-owned and had been in drydock at Portland. She was to have been put in service on a run from New Haven to Portugal with a general cargo.

"We struck heavy weather last night, and early today our after rigging carried away.

"When the boom went, it smashed our lifeboat to kindling.

"Things looked bad for us for a while.

"Wallowing in a heavy sea, we had a tough job clearing the deck of the fouled rigging and smashed boom.

"Finally, we got a foresail on her and kept steerage way. At dawn we saw we were dangerously close in shore.

"We dropped anchor, but the chain parted and we were swept in over the bar.

"Soon after we hit, I tried to take a little dory in through the surf, with a lifeline. The surf swamped me, but First Mate Rose jumped from deck with a life belt and gave me a hand. Together we reached shore."

Cop's Son Injured Seriously in Crash

Thomas Maloney, 21, of Newhall st., Neponset, son of a Boston policeman, was critically injured today when his automobile plunged into the cement abutment of a railroad bridge in Dorchester ave., near Andrew sq.

The car crashed into the bridge, forcing the engine back into the tonneau and pinning the youth behind the wheel.

A passing motorist, unable to reach the victim, summoned firemen.

A priest also was called from St. Monica's Church and last rites were administered while firemen cut through a door to extricate the youth.

At City Hospital, Maloney was found to have suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries. His name was placed on the danger list.

According to police, his car skidded while he was driving towards Boston. He is the son of Patrolman James Maloney of the South Boston station.

State Jobless Got $40,244,925

Aggregate jobless insurance payments in Massachusetts passed the $40,000,000 mark this week.

The State Unemployment Compensation Division reported today that it had distributed $40,244,925 to eligible claimants since benefits first became payable in January, 1938.

Meanwhile, the initial claim load and the number of continued claims during the current week remained almost stationary. The claim load dropped from 8496 last week to 8329.

The division reported that Worcester was the only office to report an increase of any magnitude in initial claims, while Lawrence, New Bedford and North Adams accounted for the net decrease.

Check Career of Wife Slaying Suspect

A nation-wide check on Ferdinand Paarand, 25, of Chelsea, charged with the murder of his wife, Edna, was ordered today by Massachusetts authorities.

Decision to circularize all police departments of the country came after police heard the story of a New York nurse, whom he allegedly married in Brooklyn four years ago and who bore him a son.

According to police, he never divorced her prior to his marriage to the auburn-haired woman who he now is charged with murdering. Authorities believe he took her life to cover up a bigamous marriage.

Checking on Paarand's history, they learned he had lived in a score of cities, during roving life of a seaman.

It was to all these cities that circulars are to be sent to see if he is wanted by police.

INSURANCE RECEIVER APPOINTED

State Insurance Commissioner Francis F. J. Harrington, in Supreme Court today, was appointed permanent receiver of the Massachusetts Accident Co.

During the hearing at which Harrington's appointment was not opposed, Judge Henry T. Lummus, asked by an unidentified attorney for a group of policyholders what the company receivership was "all about," replied:

"Well, I can tell you what was told to me. I was told this company had so much non-cancellable disability insurance that large losses in that field were inevitable.

"The percentage of that business on the company's books was so great that some rehabilitation must be had or the company would become bankrupt.

"It was also stated that to put the company in the hands of a receiver would permit the working out of a plan to liquidate that kind of business.

"The company recently attempted in another manner to liquidate that business without success."

Judge Lummus appointed Harrington temporary receiver Thursday.

GLAMOUR GIRL contestant for the season is Margaret McKean, daughter of the Q. A. Shaw McKeans of Boston and Prides Crossing. Votes will be cast tonight in the Magnolia Casino's annual contest and winner will be announced Friday night at the Society Scrambles party.

The new, mild, gentle

HAV-A-TAMPA Jewel

THE CIGAR FOR WOMEN AND THE YOUNGER GENERATION

This HAV-A-TAMPA Jewel is just as mild as a cigarette (in fact, we believe it is milder than a cigarette). What we mean by this is that any man or woman who smokes cigarettes can smoke this cigar and inhale, just as they do a cigarette. Then, too, this cigar has a very pleasing aroma, something a cigarette does not have.

The HYGIENIC DAINTY TIP 5c

The Hav-A-Tampa Jewel has a wooden mouthpiece, which adds to the pleasure and convenience of cigar smoking, and prevents an unpleasant tobacco taste.

FREE! To introduce this cigar to women and the public that this cigar is really mild enough and pleasant enough for women to smoke, we will give a HAV-A-TAMPA Jewel Free to the first 500 women or young men bringing in this ad

In introducing this cigar we feel we are supplying that long-felt want for something a little more than a cigarette and do away with that smelly, heavy-tasting cigar feeling that women object to. As a result, we should create new cigar smokers and a more receptive feeling for cigars with the younger generation and women.

CHENEY'S EYE BATH

A famous poet said: "The eyes are the windows of the soul"

A nationally famous physician said: "We are too careless about the health of our eyes. No other organ of the body is more abused or more neglected."

We say: "Make it a daily habit to flush eyes thoroughly morning and night."

You wash your hands many times a day—you bathe regularly—so clean a part of body every day—the hands are powder and rouge. But few of us pay attention to our eyes.

BETTER THAN DROPS

Actually clears eye. Cigar Eye Bath and you will be amazed at the wonderful refreshed feeling. It is an antiseptic bathing and soothing eyewash. It takes out redness, irritations and inflammation and relieves tired and sore eyes.

AT NIGHT

Flushing the eyes at night before retiring washes out the dangerous dust, dirt, and germs from city streets. It leaves eyes with a cool, refreshed feeling that brings about immediate relaxation and almost instant sleep.

A SCIENTIFIC FORMULA

Eyes are ever so delicate. You must be careful that you bathe them only with a safe preparation. Cheney's Eye Bath is especially prepared for this one purpose. It is safe for delicate tissues.

1940 Thanksgiving Nov. 21, Rules F.D.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt has decided to proclaim November 21 as Thanksgiving Day for 1940, it being the third instead of the usual fourth Thursday of the month.

This will correspond to the President's action in moving up this year's Thanksgiving from November 30 to November 23.

Following announcement of this year's change many governors, sports authorities and calendar makers protested. Some governors have announced they will not follow the President's action but will proclaim November 30 as the day for Thanksgiving.

The Chief Executive's original action was taken on the belief there was not enough time between November 30 and Christmas, Dec. 25, in which to conduct holiday trade, and he believed by moving up the date, retail merchants could do more business.

Officials said the President was announcing next year's date this much in advance to permit calendar makers and football schedule arrangers to take action accordingly.

Keep the World Out of War

THE EARNEST EFFORTS made by President Roosevelt to [illegible] would be assured of receiving a world-wide response in war have the undivided and unstinted support of the people of the United States.

They have and of course deserve, the support of all civilized [illegible]

The war Mr. Roosevelt is trying to avert would at least set the course of human progress back, and might return the world to such a state of barbarism that the work of centuries to improve human relationships would be nullified.

The manner of his efforts is in accord with the highest principles and spiritual concepts of enlightened mankind, for as he said in his remarkable message to the world conference of Catholic students:

"We must pray for peace. We must work for peace, and we must think in terms of peace, and have faith that despite all discouragements, councils of wisdom ultimately will prevail among nations so that every controversy will find its solution in the arbitrament of REASON rather than in an appeal to arms."

It should not stay the President's endeavor that his striving for world peace may have no effect.

Even if his effort fails, it is RIGHT.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has all the forces of reason and [illegible] his own countrymen, who lay aside all partisan bias and differing opinion on other matters to commend and support him in expressing the attitude and opinion of real Americans in this critical hour.

If the President should succeed in joining all of the American republics in a plea to Europe for a peaceful settlement of its problems, he would set in motion such a moral force as the world has seldom seen.

The American nations should certainly be united on the side of peace.

[illegible] States is gladly and wholeheartedly in that cause.

The attitude and opinion of the United States have great weight in Europe, and are bound to have influence.

[illegible] for peace and sanity and [illegible] nations is an obligation that admits of no dispute among us and has raised none.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has, of course, a responsibility [illegible] to keep the world [illegible] it is furthered it [illegible] wisdom and patience unceasingly despite the circuitous [illegible] and apparent futility which attend it, is the good [illegible] and hope of the salvation of the modern world.

Human Side of News -t-

By EDWIN C. HILL

ON A RECENT Sunday afternoon in the storied old port of Gloucester up in Massachusetts, the people gathered in the public square for one of the most heart moving memorials in all the world.

In the shadow of the famous monument to the fishermen of Gloucester who have lost their lives at sea, the people, old and young, the widowed and the fatherless met to pay tribute to the five captains courageous who were lost last year.

Many of those in the silent, reverent throng were fishing [illegible] tains and members of the crews of Gloucester's fishing schooners – faces bronzed by sun and wind; about their eyes the crow's feet common to seafaring men. Some [illegible] and a few [illegible] thick fingers [illegible] and [illegible] and gardens verbenas, phlox, dasies, zinnias, larkspur, snapdragon.

THEY MARCHED quietly to the Gloucester Monument, the heroic figure of a fisherman clad in oilskins and sou'wester, pressing the steering wheel of his schooner. His eyes are fixed on the far horizon as his body sways to the motion of the ship, and his gaze searches beyond the harbor.

THE FISHERMAN
Gloucester's Heroic Figure

Under his lifelike figure is a simple inscription containing a world of grief and tragedy and a word of courage and resignation to the will of God:

"They That Go Down to the Sea in Ships"

The fishermen of Gloucester formed a circle around the [illegible]

[illegible] all received their [illegible] hats while wreaths were placed at the foot of the monument. The slow march was taken up again and the flower-laden fishermen made their way to "The Cut," a narrow inlet between Ipswich Bay and the harbor, through which the tide rips swiftly.

The people of Gloucester, thronged there, made a lane for the bronzed fishermen on the bank of The Cut. The band played "Abide With Me" and "Rock of Ages."

MEN OF GOD and men of the sea, whose hearts were filled with memories of brave men gone to death in long their simple duty in the only work they knew, spoke movingly, and soon tears were falling like gentle rain for [illegible] and hearts in that company.

Then the chaplain stepped forward. "In living tribute we strew these flowers on the waters." And he read the names of the five lost last year: William Nolan, Alexander Muise, James Murphy Rudolph Johnson, Albert Car[illegible]

As each name was called, bouquets armloads of lovely flowers were cast into the swiftly flowing tide. The crowd was silent except for the low sobbing of women who will never again see their fear men come sailing home.

I did, however, discover that one of the things one must not do is to lie in bed in the morning after waking up. If you like to daydream you should do so in [illegible] that you [illegible] before eating or

Of course, you should do many exercises and you should eat with common sense. By the time I have remembered everything in the book, I think I shall acquire all the lines it tells you must be kept from furrowing your brow.

My grandmother looked much younger than I do at my age. I wonder how she managed to do it without all this good advice? Yet, we all want youth and I am sure I shall read this book with care and try to follow its dictates.

I HAVE READ three one act plays for children. If you have any girls in your family who never realized that women's position in the U. S. The children will realize that intolerance is nothing new and that 100 per cent Americans, who are that and nothing else, have been with us for a long while. They will also realize that, on the other side, there have always been just and tolerant people who could appreciate worth, regardless of race or creed—and nowadays that is valuable.

OYSTERS A LA RITZ

Open [illegible] over the [illegible] water pouch the oysters lightly; then replace them in their shells. Pour over them a light sauce of spinach butter to which a lot of chives and fine herbs have been added. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese and brown over a hot broiler. Garnish with fried parsley and bits of onion.

BLACK BEAN SOUP A LA RITZ

½ lb. black beans
1 large minced onion
2 carrots diced
10 cups soup stock or water
1 hard boiled egg, chopped fine
½ cup heavy cream

Soak beans overnight in water to cover; drain. Saute onions and carrots in butter in a saucepan. Place beans and stock in a cooking soup pot. Add sauted onions and carrots in butter in a saucepan, and simmer from 2 to 3 hours, until beans are tender; put through a fine sieve. Add remaining ingredients. Return to the fire. Bring to a boiling point, stirring constantly. Before serving add the [illegible] of [illegible] and garnish with thin slices of lemon. Makes 8 to 10 portions.

FILET OF SOLE A LA RITZ

Poach the sole allowing 1 3 lb for each portion) in hot water seasoned with salt and pepper. Add finely sliced raw mushrooms, chopped shallot and parsley. When cooked, remove the sole and thicken the cooking liquor with a sauce made as follows:

2 tbsp. sweet cream
1 tbsp. butter
1 egg yolk

Increase the proportions of this sauce if it doesn't produce a sufficient amount to thicken the cooking liquor. Bring to a boiling point. Place the sole in a casserole, pour the sauce over it, and brown under a very hot broiler.

RASPBERRY TAPIOCA SUNSET

Head-of-the-Class Styles

CLOTHES like these deserve a real try for good grades . . . and we're sure you can put the idea over . . . Big Sister will particularly be taken by the good-looking plaid frock (eyelet embroidered collar edged with tic-rac) of a washable, color fast plaid fabric whose weave looks like shantung, but which actually has the effect of taffeta. It is only $2.25 in the upper classes range of 12-16. In the center, the young man caught in the middle of nefarious doings, is wearing a class favorite and classic buy. It's a wool tweed three-piece suit with double-breasted front and swing back. Very nice fabrics and colors, also navy cheviot. Smartly cut jacket, shorts and knickers, all for $8.95 in sizes 6-12. Diagonals, herringbones, pepper and salt mixtures, among others. Lower left, the smallest wears a cute bolero effect check gingham, sizes 3-6, $1.15. So Name Your Brand
If You Want Your Drink to Really Satisfy You

From experience, you've discovered which brands of liquors please you—and which don't. And when you order by the bottle—you're always sure to ask for your favorite brand. Why should you be less particular when ordering drinks at the bar? Remember your bartender may be serving you liquor that costs just as much as your favorite brand but it's not the kind you know will please you. And your bartender is no mind reader, he doesn't realize it's wishful thinking [illegible] It costs you no more [illegible] a brand that you know and trust can be enjoyed [illegible] For an [illegible] brand has a great reputation to protect.

Holly Mandly Jr. Serious Threat For Golf Title

By BILL GRIMES

Harold H. "Holly" Mandly, Jr., Wethersfield, Conn., who was the medalist in the New England section qualifications for the United States amateur championship yesterday at the Charles River Country Club, is the most serious threat to win the title that is now held by Willie Turnesa.

Qualifying figures

To the gallery at the North Shore Country Club out in Glenview Ill., where Willie Turnesa will defend his U. S. amateur title next month, "Holly" Mandly will be just another golfer named Joe. But, if he is shooting the golf that he displayed during the New Englands at Wannamoisett and at Charles River, "Holly" Mandly is going to be a worthy contender for the national crown.

JUST BEFORE THE BATTLE—Ann Fitzgibbons of Duxbury, left, and Mary Lane of Thorny Lea wish each other luck starting their match play battle in the State junior title golf at Wellesley. Miss Lane stepped out to score a stunning upset over her favored foe, two up.

B'S, REDS RAINED OUT, 2 GAMES TOMORROW

Bill McKechnie ushered his league-leading Reds from Cincinnati into Boston today for their series opener with the Bees at the Hive this p. m.

Then the game was rained out, making a twin bill for tomorrow's Ladies' Day card.

Bill and the boys were apparently somewhat on edge as they tried to relax at the hotel after their arrival. With only a five-game lead over the second place Cardinals, and the Cubs only a couple of games back of that in third spot, the Reds have been feeling the pressure.

With an excellent season mark against the Bees, McKechnie hoped to see his gang sweep the two tomorrow, the club's final games here.

McKechnie thought he'd send Whitey Moore and Bucky Walters at the Bees tomorrow.

Casey Stengel plans to use Jim Turner and Bill Posedel.

Casey Stengel planned to use Jim Turner, The thrilling 2 to 1 victory over the Cards has some bearing on Casey starting his most reliable hurler against the league leaders.

GAME DEADLOCKED

Yesterday's win over the Cards 2-1, was a tie ball game as it reached a moist halfway mark.

The Bees had put over a run in the first on successive singles by "Buddy" Hassett, Al Simmons and Tony Cuccinello. After getting the marker, they still had the sacks loaded with one out but Max West fell asleep off first to put the damper on further scoring.

The Cards knotted the count in the third. Weiland singled, was sacrificed to second and romped home with two gone on a single by Enos Slaughter, who collected three of the invaders' eight hits.

Now the slim crowd of 1022 began urging that the game be called so that they might cash in on their rain checks.

But Umpire-in-Chief George Magerkurth, probably realizing that if the game didn't continue long enough to be official it would have to be played in St. Louis, as the Cards don't come back here again, kept the boys at it. This turned out to be disastrous for the Red Birds.

BUDDY STARTS TROUBLE

"Buddy" Hassett opened the home fifth by beating out a bunt down the third base line. Don Gutteridge didn't have a chance to make a play on the ball, but he let it go for over Mize's head at first. "Buddy" scooting to second and moving up to third when Simmons flied very deep to Terry Moore in center.

The the Cards' strategy board ordered Cuccinello passed, bringing up West, our leading run-getter.

And this questionable strategy appeared to have succeeded, when Maxie rolled to Lary at short and the latter threw home in plenty of time to nail Hassett.

But the throw was in the dirt and Hassett, who was ready to make a break back toward third, turned and continued on over the platter with what proved to be the winning marker.

SEMI-FINALS

Mary Jane Wilson, Highland, vs. Mary Lane, Thorny Lea.

Margaret Ogg, Worcester, vs. Nancy Bailey, Marshfield.

Mary Jane Wilson, Highland and Margaret Ogg, Worcester, are favored to come through victorious today in the semi-finals of the Massachusetts Girls' junior championship at the Wellesley Country Club.

Mary Jane Wilson was the medalist of the qualifying round. She coasted through her first round match yesterday, defeating Mary Moore, Weston, 5 and 4, while Margaret Ogg eliminated Mary Reed, daughter of C. Searles Reed, a former Harvard short stop, who a few years ago rated with the best amateurs in the state.

Mary Lane, who is playing Mary Jane Wilson today in the semi-finals, furnished a surprising upset yesterday when she defeated Ann Fitzgibbons, Duxbury, 2 up. Ann Fitzgibbons had the call over the Weston lassie but she lost control of her putter and went down to defeat.

Nancy Bailey, who is out with Margaret Ogg was the runner up to Mary Jane Wilson in the qualifying round and yesterday she scored a 7 and 5 win over Mary Everett Hatherly.

Grove Shoots For 14th Win

DETROIT, Aug. 30—The pitching sensation of both major leagues, Moses "Lefty" Grove will be seeking his 14th victory of the season today when he opposes the Tigers this afternoon.

It's Grove's turn to take the hill-top and though the old soupbone has the power of former years, his uncanny knowledge of the batters weaknesses has made him the outstanding player of the veterans.

Paul Trout, who has been going like a wild horse of late has been selected to oppose the Boston veteran. The Red Sox gained half a game on the league leading Yankees as a result of their 7 to 4 victory over Cleveland but fans have little hopes of the Bostonians catching the McCarthy tribe this year.

Another Cleveland pitcher learned yesterday that Ted Williams is a dangerous batter. The Boston rookie outfielder lined a home run off Pitcher Harry Eisenstat with the bases jammed to give the Red Sox a 7 to 4 decision over the Indians.

Williams hit one of Mel Harder's pitches Monday for a circuit blow with two mates on base to win that game, 6-5.

The homers gave Boston a split in the four-game series. Wilfred Lefebvre, rookie southpaw won his first American League decision but needed relief help from Joe Heving.

Williams' smash today—his 21st this year—climaxed a Boston fifth-inning rally which produced six runs.

PRESIDENT'S MATCH OPENS AT CAMP PERRY

CAMP PERRY, O., Aug. 30 (AP)—The greatest field of shooters in history sought to win a personal letter of commendation from President Roosevelt in the President's match, feature event on the national rifle program at Camp Perry.

The 30-shot event drew 2019 of the nation's outstanding marksmen with .30 caliber rifles. The event consists of 10 shots at 200 yards, standing, 10 shots at 600 yards prone, and 10 at 1000 yards, prone.

Almost matching the feature match in interest was the historic Wimbledon Cup, a 20-shot event at 1000 yards. The trophy was first offered in 1875 by Princess Louise, daughter of QJueen Victoria of England.

The Leech Cup, oldest shooting trophy in America, went to Chifford A. Barger, 10th Infantry private of Fort Thomas, Ky., who set a world's record by ramming 21 straight shots into the bullseye, 19 of them in the small V-ring.

Shoteoffs gave the Coast Guard trophy to Sergt. Coats Brown of the 22d Infantry at Fort McClellan, Ala., and the Marine cup to Private Claude L. Floyd of Hineaville, Ga.

Mackmen Recall Five Minor Leaguers

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics recalled five players from two minor league clubs, including Bill Lillard, Connie Mack's shortstop prospect who has played with Baltimore this year.

The recall order also applied to Leon Kyle, Sam Page and Lester McCrabb, pitchers, and Albert Brancato, a third baseman—all now with Williamsport of the Eastern League.

Red Menace in Boston!

Cincy Threatens to Smother Bees

When it's "Battery for Cincinnati—Grissom and Lombardi" you today know your Bees are in for a tough afternoon. This championship pair also "pitch and catch" Wheaties regularly. Says Grissom, "My breakfast to-be-a-breakfast hook-up is Wheaties!" And Ernie declares, "I eat Wheaties almost every morning!" How about you?

A mighty effective delivery has southpaw Lee Grissom, both on the mound and over a bowlful of Wheaties.

These two able Reds are enthusiastic Wheaties eaters. Lee gets his educated pitching hand busy on a heaping bowlful, while Ernie smilingly breaks open the famous orange and blue package that scores a hit with this bulky receiver.

Lombardi holds many records. And Wheaties, a General Mills product, is on the record books, too, as "the best breakfast food in the land!"

Ask your grocer to pass you that big orange and blue package. From then on it's a walk to 1st: quick, easy breakfasts; 2nd: a big time taste thrill; 3rd: healthful nourishment. And you complete the circuit when you add milk or cream and fruit juice to Wheaties for a flavorful "Breakfast of Champions" which helps you get a good start mornings. Join the line from first base call for Wheaties. And join the records of National League "gold and red coat" ball games!

"Breakfast of Champions"

WHEATIES WITH MILK OR CREAM AND FRUIT

Wheaties and "Breakfast of Champions" are registered trade marks of General Mills Inc.

49 Gridders Report To Coach Mansfield

HAVERHILL, Aug. 30—A squad of 49 football candidates reported to Head Coach James F. Mansfield at the Haverhill High School Stadium for the initial practice of the year.

The team this year will be led by Johnny Boriako, a veteran back, with about nine veterans expected to return.

The season opens here Saturday, Sept. 16 against Manning High of Ipswich.

Redskins Find Sub for Battles

Word leaks through from Spokane, Washington, that the Redskins have a second Cliff Battles in the person of Dick Todd, former Texas Aggies flash, to turn loose on the All-Stars at Fenway Park Monday evening, September 11, in the Crosscup-Pishon sponsored game.

For the third year in a row the Redskins most highly touted player seems destined to justify his high advance praise. In 1937 it was Slingin' Sammy Baugh, who, in his freshman year, broke all records for ground gained by the over-head route. Last year it was Detroit University's Andy Farkas, who led all the Redskin backs in ground gained by rushing.

Ever since Todd signed his contract with the Skins some several months ago, they have touted him as their outstanding pickup of the year. It is rumored that Dick is the second highest paid man on the Washington roster.

The acquisition of Todd makes the Redskins a very strong contender for professional honors this fall. Last season the loss of Battles left the Marshall outfit with a very fine all-mail threat, but no direct running attack to give the passers any real deception.

As Van Ranst of Lowell will play center on the All-Stars.

Alice Marble Wins On Essex Court

MANCHESTER, Mass., Aug. 30 (AP)—Alice Marble, of Beverly Hills, Calif., American and Wimbledon Women's Tennis Champion, opened her drive for her third Essex County Club's invitation tournament title by sweeping through youthful Alice Surber, of Los Angeles, 6—0, 6—0.

Three other seeded American stars, Dorothy Bundy, of Santa Monica, Calif., Virginia Wolfenden, of San Francisco, and Helen Federsen, of Stamford, Conn., followed Miss Marble into the round of 16 before a long-threatening rain set in.

The downpour eliminated the possibility of foreign stars just as the British Wightman Cup squad, composed of Kay Stammers, Mrs. Freda James Hammersley, Nina Brown, Valerie Scott and Betty Nuthall, started play.

Mrs. Hammersley, second seeded foreigner, had time to win a 6—4 set from Marilyn McRae, of Little Rock, Ark., but the others only warmed up.

The seeded stars had easy victories with the exception of Miss Federsen, America's eighth ranking player. The Stamford girl was forced to the limit before overcoming hard-hitting Edna Smith, of Cleveland, 9—7, 6—4.

Miss Marble's play was marked by her intense seriousness. Usually she reserves her early round matches for little more than exercise but today she fired her heaviest artillery from the opening serve and rattled through her match in exactly 16 minutes. She allowed Miss Surber only 12 points and only one earned placement.

Eight first round doubles matches were completed, all running very much to form.

"BACK YOU GO"—Mrs. Virginia Rice Johnson of Boston tells the ball to get into reverse, and backs up the order with a forehand drive, at Essex County Club, as she topples Phaines Xydes of Greece, 6—3, 7—5 in a first round match.

Trick Race Car At Medford Oval

Two new features will add considerable color to the brilliant midget race program planned at the Riverside Park speedway, Medford, tomorrow night. These attractions are expected to steal the play from the 25-lap feature which is a New England championship event.

The first innovation will be the racing introduction of a car with a motor built in the rear, and the second will be a match race between Ed Speedy Eng and Bob King for the New England sprint championship.

This new reverse motor car is called a "Corrigan." There is only one other car like it and that wagon is on the West coast where its driver has had considerable good fortune.

Although this car is expected to attract plenty of interest, the long awaited match race between Ed Eng and Bob King, which now appears to be a certainty, should be one of the most bitter duels ever witnessed over the tricky Medford oval.

The pair are running neck and neck in the race for the New England championship and each wants the satisfaction of a victory tomorrow night.

New Horses to Show at Fair

Growing interest in breeding of thoroughbreds in Massachusetts is indicated by the addition of a local breeders' class in the annual Brockton Fair horse show scheduled September 12 through 15, under American Horse Shows Association rules.

The local breeders' class, for foals of 1939, already is stimulating considerable rivalry. Max E. Wind of Brockton and A. R. Parker, East Bridgewater, both Fair directors, and Mrs. Leslie A. Claff, of Randolph, have entered the class.

Wind will show a chestnut colt named Bettyson whose pedigree is Daisybore-Betty. Parker and his daughter, Virginia, have jointly entered a black filly, Radona, by Select out of Ramona. Mrs. Claff's entry is the chestnut filly, Lady Barbara, whose sire is Bombo and dam, Montgomery Lady.

Spencer Scott Wins $7500 Purse

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—In the biggest upset of the grand circuit meet, Spencer Scott, owned by C. W. Phellis of Greenwich, Conn., and driven by Fred Egan, won the $7500 Noyes Stake for two-year-old trotters, feature of the second day's racing at the New York State Fair.

The winner, held at 5 to 1, won both heats while Earl's Moody Guy, the early favorite, could do no better than eighth in the nine-horse field.

MEAD, WEILL BANNED IN WEIRD RULING

NEW YORK, Aug. 30 (INS)—Charged with conduct so unbecoming that it hurt boxing, Eddie Mead, manager of Henry Armstrong, and Al Weill, manager of Lou Ambers, drew curious suspensions from the New York State Athletic Commission.

Mead, who charged that Commr. Bill Brown had predicted two weeks before the recent Ambers-Armstrong match that five rounds would be taken away from Henry for fouling, was given a suspension of a year and a month.

Weill, who spent much time at the fight walking up and down the ring apron, threatening to have Mead "kill," was suspended for four months.

However, both suspensions will be lifted through the entire month of October to enable the portly managers to take an active hand in the return match between Ambers and Armstrong for the welterweight title Nov. 1.

They will be allowed to officiate in the fighters' corners the night of the fight, but their suspension starts again immediately after the last blow is landed.

The suspension is effective only in New York, as the state has no connections with any other boxing commission.

Mead's suspension came after he formally charged that Referee Arthur Donovan, who took five rounds away from Armstrong for fouls, was prejudiced against the fighter.

Hot words between Mead and the commissioners were barely averted. Mead had in his pocket a document in which he formally resigned as Armstrong's manager, and planned to whip it out and then "blow the lid off boxing." But he didn't.

Weill profusely apologized for his actions and said that the only reason he ran around the ring after Donovan on the night of the fight was to yell "Do yez want my boy to be kilt or you gonna let that guy keep on fouling?" Weill explained that it must have been the heat of the battle.
